Hack Your Business

6 HACKS to build your BUSINESS

RECRUITING

Ideas to compile your list

- 1 Become part of a club like a business women's club, a tennis club, or an art class club. Start jotting down the names of those you meet.
- 2 Moms of children at the same school as yours.
- 3 Your nail technician.
- 4 Your colleagues at work.
- 5 Interior designers.
- 6 Somebody already in direct selling that you know from somewhere.
- 7 Your hairdresser.
- 8 Those who suffer with their health.
- 9 Those you know who want to lose weight.
- 10 Those you know who have skin challenges like eczema, sensitive skin, etc.

Your project 10x10 list

Start building a business by introducing new consultants to the business opportunity.

Family, friends and colleagues are the most accessible people to approach first. They are easy to talk to and will not criticize you unnecessarily.

Then approach your existing customers – they already know, use and love Annique Rooibos products. Those will be the ones indicating they do not have money or that they cannot buy the products anymore.

Compile a "screening list" with ten names and aim for 100. Add names as you meet new people. Keep your list on you at all times.

Do not exclude people simply because you doubt their interest. Everyone is a potential consultant or customer.

Ideas to break the ice

- Join clubs and social events, and always leave your card.
- The one-meter rule works! Talk to anyone who comes within one meter of you.
- Listen first and establish trust, then engage in Annique Rooibos talk – make it clear that you want to share your product and knowledge with them instead of leading with a "sell".

Choosing your Annique Rooibos consultant

Look at your list and identify people...

- seeking financial independence
- looking to start a new business
- who are enthusiastic (enthusiasm sells)
- who desire more freedom
- who want to spend more time at home with their families
- ...and contact them list.
